Stories

"I come from Colombia. I need this financial help since my parents' resources are low and it is difficult to cover all expenses."

"I'm self-supporting my mission. I used to be homeless so for me to even get to this point in my life is a huge blessing. I can only comfortably pay for about half of my mission."

"Ian's mom is working part time with heavy medical and student loans while trying to find another part time job. It would be a huge help financially if Ian is able to shop and obtain his items recommended for his mission in the next few weeks."

"As the sole church convert in my family, I worked and saved money to fund my missionary service. It was rewarding and I have grown my testimony greatly. As I transition to college, I am also facing financial hardships."

"Because there are two of us going at the same time, it has been really difficult for my parents to give us financial assistance. This financial help will ensure that I am prepared with all the items I need for two years."

"I would like to express my sincere gratitude for making it possible for me to get the supplies that I needed for my mission. Now, I'm a returned missionary and I am in need of financial assistance."

"We already have one child out on a mission. Rigby's mission will overlap with his older sister's for 12 months."
 "I am excited for this next chapter of my life, but the costs are daunting. My parents are helping me as much as they can, but between supporting my older brother who is currently serving a mission in Brazil, and my two younger siblings many medical issues, my parents are stretched very thin financially."

"Prior to my call to serve, my family struggled with finances and barely had enough to make ends meet. With my brother out on the mission field, my mother constantly going in and out of the hospital for colon cancer treatment, and my father who worked two jobs to provide for us, times weren't easy. We eventually hit our lowest point, when my beautiful and loving mother passed away two months ago."

"I am a triplet, and my two triplet siblings also want to get an education, so it's a lot of money at once for my parents to pay for. They just paid for three missions at once, and there are seven kids in my family."
